

County commissioners staff is increased

An increase in the Wayne County Board of Commissioners administrative staff means better county government, according to John N. Sabo Jr., (D-26th district).

Sabo was among the 24 commissioners who voted to increase the county commissioners' staff by 13 persons at a cost of $150,000 yearly.

"It will mean that there is one secretary for every three commissioners," Sabo said. "That means that we'll have people to dictate to. Before we had two secretaries for all the commissioners, and it was difficult to conduct business."

Sabo said that the action came after two developments, the vacating of the seventh floor of the City-County Building and the receipt of federal revenue sharing funds.

"Before then we couldn't have done it," the commissioner said.

"We didn't have the room to increase the staff when we were on the ninth floor, and before the revenue sharing funds came, we were operating on a deficit budget."

The commissioner said that the increased expenditure shouldn't detract from other county services.

"We had the money in surplus, so we spent it," he said. "The only thing that could hurt is if the courts order the county to build a new jail. The courts haven't mandated it, so we don't have to worry now. They've only suggested that we construct a new jail."

"Even if they order us to construct the jail, we don't have the money. The people reject the millage. They'll be ordering us to go back to deficit spending."

It was suggested that the $150,000 spent on administrative personnel could help to defer the jail expenditure.

"We needed the added personnel to run the county more efficiently," Sabo said.

Sabo said that the recent lay-offs at Wayne County General Hospital due to the transfer of psychiatric patients to state institutions were of no worry to the commissioners, since most of those laid off have been absorbed into other jobs.

"There are few, if any, people laid off from the hospital staff," Sabo said.

"And, the commissioners' problems are still not taken care of. I'd like to see each commissioner get a private office, so he could conduct his business more efficiently."

"When you make a call, there are people all around, and you can barely hear yourself talk at the county building. The move to the seventh floor should help to correct that situation, but it won't take care of everything."

"One thing it will do is to consolidate the county offices. We have two or three industrial developers in an office on Fort Street. It's bad to promote industrial development in the county by inviting people to an old office building. That looks bad."

"They'll be moving in here soon."

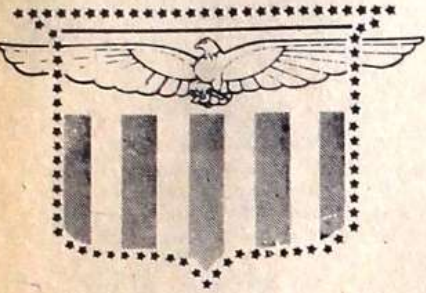

"There still are people spread throughout the out-county area. It's difficult to conduct county business with them spread all over the place. I'd like to see them downtown."

Only one commissioner, Rose Mary Robinson (D-17th District), voted against the staff increase.

More than $175,000 was appropriated for the staff increase by the commissioners last year.

Included in the new staff will be seven secretaries, two assistant committee clerks, a clerk to record board proceedings, an administrative assistant, a messenger boy and a public relations employee.

The county administrative staff will include 28 people with the increase.

Romulus stops milk collection

BY KAY DeBORD

The milk program in the Romulus school district for kindergarten through sixth graders will do away with the weekly collection of money for milk in the new term that starts Monday.

A delegation from the Cory Parent - Teacher Association, with Larry Hay and Darlene Popowski as spokesmen, brought some of the problems facing parents and teachers before the Romulus Board of Education on Monday night.

The board's absence on "milk day" due to illness, the bookkeeping problems of the teacher, the confusion of the younger children denied milk because payment was late and the possible traumatic effect on the child were explained to the board. The board also took into account the money saved by doing away with the need for a guard to make a weekly pick-up of the collected milk money at the schools in the district.

After consideration of the pre-payment program suggested by the parent-teacher group, the Romulus board voted to accept the suggestion throughout the district. It was decided that there would be a two-week grace period for budget adjustment on the part of families taking part in the program, and that payments would be on a pro-rata basis for families moving into the district in mid-semester.

The pre-payment plan it is felt will be more convenient for the parent who finds himself short of proper change the day before payday, the absent-minded parent, or the child who is distressed because he has lost his milk money.

The problems of collecting and auditing the money will be reduced to a once-a-semester necessity in most instances, taking less time away from classroom work on the part of the teacher and the time of administrative personnel.

The board also adopted a policy on outside performances and performers in the school district. It limited programs, shows and other entertainment and educational programs to student talent, or persons or programs that are school-connected and approved. In other instances, special notification is required, in writing, at least two-weeks in advance.

In other action, the board approved the advertising for bids for the replacement of windows for the original section of Romulus Junior High School, with costs estimated at $14,500, and the advertising of bids for replacements for two pick-up trucks and a van for the district.

Before adjourning in executive session, the board mapped plans for a special closed meeting on school housing problems facing the district in September, with a public meeting to follow at a later date.

Land hearing set for Van Buren

A show cause hearing on why a temporary restraining order staying an annexation ruling issued by the Michigan State Boundary Commission involving Van Buren Township land should not be continued will be heard in Wayne County Circuit Court Friday.

Judge Charles Kaufman, who issued the initial temporary restraining order, is to rule on whether his order be continued pending a hearing on the merits of the annexation.

The order to show cause was issued in a civil proceedings instituted by Philip Rice, legal counsel for the township.

The annexation ruling issued by the state boundary commission in November approved the annexation of 43 acres of township land to the City of Belleville.

The ruling which involved land covering portions of Belleville Senior High School and the school district administration building and the High School vocational trade Center located in the township.

The school district filed the annexation petition with the state boundary commission to eliminate some of the problems resulting from split jurisdiction.

The city's boundary line runs down the center of the high school, the vocational center buildings were in the city, but most of the grounds were in the township. The administration building, which is in the township, is being supplied with city water and sewage at the double the rate because it is outside (See Land hearing, Page A-2)

Van Buren approves position

The Van Buren Township Board of Trustees have approved the reappointments of David McMullin, Mrs. Julia Sawmiller and William Jenkins to new terms on the township's board of review. Township Clerk Mrs. Patricia Cullin requested the board's approval of the reappointments. Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer had recommended new terms for the trio.

Miss Carole Merritt of 50050 Bog Rd., Belleville, has been appointed secretary to the board of review and the recreation commission. She replaces Mrs. Joyce Rinaldi who recently resigned.

At last week's board meeting a request made by Township Treasurer Ralph Hedman to extend the deadline for all property taxes from Feb. 14 to Feb. 23 was approved.

Embezzlement charges dropped

A former Huron Township official will no longer face charges that he embezzled nearly $6,000 from the township.

Charges against James L. Krause, 34, treasurer of the township from 1966-1970, were dropped by the Wayne County Prosecutor last Wednesday. The prosecutor informed Circuit Court Judge John O'Hair that the burden of proof was too "great to win the case."

Krause had been indicted by a Wayne County Citizens Grand Jury in February, 1971, for the embezzlement of $5,789.29 from the township's general fund. Krause allegedly transferred the sum from the general fund to the water and sewer fund, later paying it back by a personal check. The former treasurer was found guilty of the charges in June of that year, but had (See Embezzlement, Page A-16)

Newspaper has new look

That new look to the Belleville Enterprise and Romulus Roman promised a couple of weeks ago finally comes into being with the publication of next week's issue.

Our new appearance deals chiefly with a new style of headline type -- Uniserve, a modern looking typeface without serifs (those little lines at the extremities of the letters).

Our emphasis on local news will remain the same. So please continue to contribute everything that was forwarded to us previously.

Deadlines for contributing news items or tips or photographs remain the same, too.

In addition, the strike against both newspapers, as well as their companion Daily Eagle based in Wayne, has been settled and the newspaper's first contract with the American Newspaper Guild of American Local 22 of Detroit has been ratified.

Hence, we expect to return to our regular distribution of the newspapers on Wednesday. Those late deliveries of the last four weeks weren't the fault of your carrier or the mail nor were they planned for later days in the week.

The delays were brought about by a delay in production caused by the four-week strike.

We appreciate your patience. Now we expect to do better in the future.

Lake-park transfer will be discussed

Further discussions between officials of Van Buren Township and Detroit Edison Co. on the ownership transfer of Belleville Lake and Edison Pointe Park on its north shore to the township will be held today at the Detroit offices of the company.

Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer and the township's industrial coordinator are to confer with Edison officials on what the terms of lake and park take-over will be and what the township can do from now until actual take-over of the six-mile long lake by the Township in fall, 1973.

There is a matter of lot descriptions, taxes and maintenance of the lake and recreational site pending the township assuming ownership of the lake-park.

Today's meeting is one of several held between the officials.

Recently the firm told the township that the official transfer of ownership has been deferred until another "season" by the company for the benefit of its employees who spend the summer vacation at the recreational site.

The company said it was "under pressure" from the Belleville Pointe Association made of due-paying employees of the firm to keep the park for another season.

Gollwitzer said he would prefer that the township take title to the lake and the park at the same time.

The township approved 2,993 votes to 1,918 in the Nov. 7 election to accept the lake-park ownership. It was the second time the ownership question had been put to the voters. May 16, it was defeated 1,801 votes to 1,389. An intensified vote campaign by a concerned citizens group -- Belleville Park and Lake Committee -- and some township officials led by Gollwitzer resulted in voter approval of the question.

Tax warrants are executed

Personal property tax warrants issued against Van Buren Township businesses by the Wayne County treasurer's office and discovered unserved in a desk at the township office by Treasurer, Ralph Hedman have been executed.

Hedman said he found the unserved tax warrants shortly after assuming office. The tax warrants issued by the county treasurer's office were received by the township for execution last June.

The total amount of personal property taxes involved was $19,330. Hedman said he had no real difficulty in collecting the tax due except in two instances.

The taxes were delinquent taxes that had been referred to county officials by the township. When the county issued tax warrants they were referred back to the township for collection.

Belleville City limits.

The boundary commission approved the school district's annexation petition with a few minor adjustments.

Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer called the decision to annex the properties to the city "arbitrary and capricious." He added that although the township suffered no tax loss through the annexation, the decision was "only the first step to taking property into the city that will be a tax loss."

The supervisor said that Seligman Inc. of Southfield has filed a petition with the state boundary commission (not involved in the court suit) to have another 42 acres of land west of the high school annexed to the city.

The November annexation has placed the property purchased by the firm contiguous to the city. Gollwitzer said that he had learned the property has been surveyed for drainage for a multiple apartment complex.

The supervisor called both petitions attempts to "circumvent our planning." I don't know why the boundary commission didn't see through the first one," he said. He called the second petition "according to script."

The township board upon request of the supervisor approved the taking of legal steps to reverse the commission annexation ruling.

Township commission to study rezoning

The Van Buren Township Planning Commission has taken under study a request to rezone a 2.12-acre land parcel located on the South Service Drive, east of Belleville Road.

The request was filed by Ray Suliman of 13055 Lakeview Dr., Belleville. Suliman, who requested a public hearing on the rezoning, told the commission that he would like a rezoning from R-1B (single residential) to R-M (multiple dwelling).

He said he plans to build apartments on the land but added that it would be two years before he developed it. His proposed building program would start east of the land parcel and then move west.

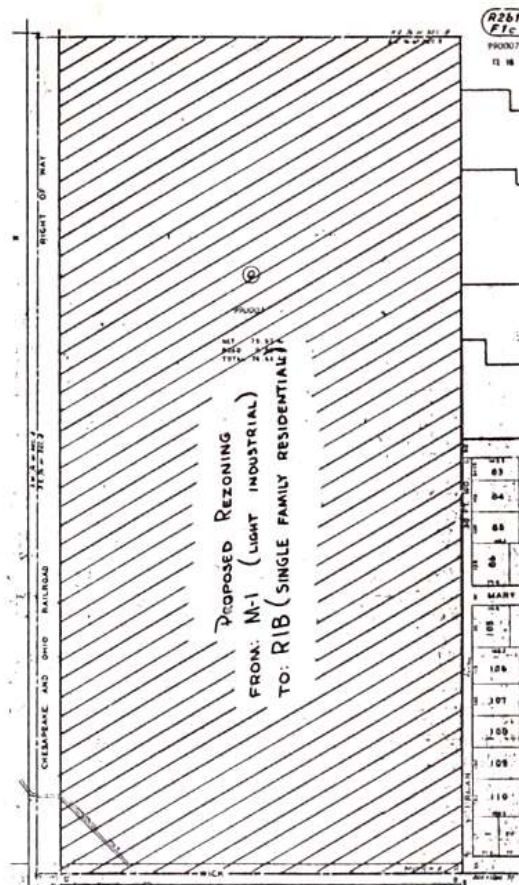

There were no objections raised at the public hearing.

Young's license okay

The transfer of a special designated merchant (SDM) license (a state permit to sell beer and wine off premises) to the new owners of Young's Market, 248 Main St., Belleville, has been approved by the Belleville City Council.

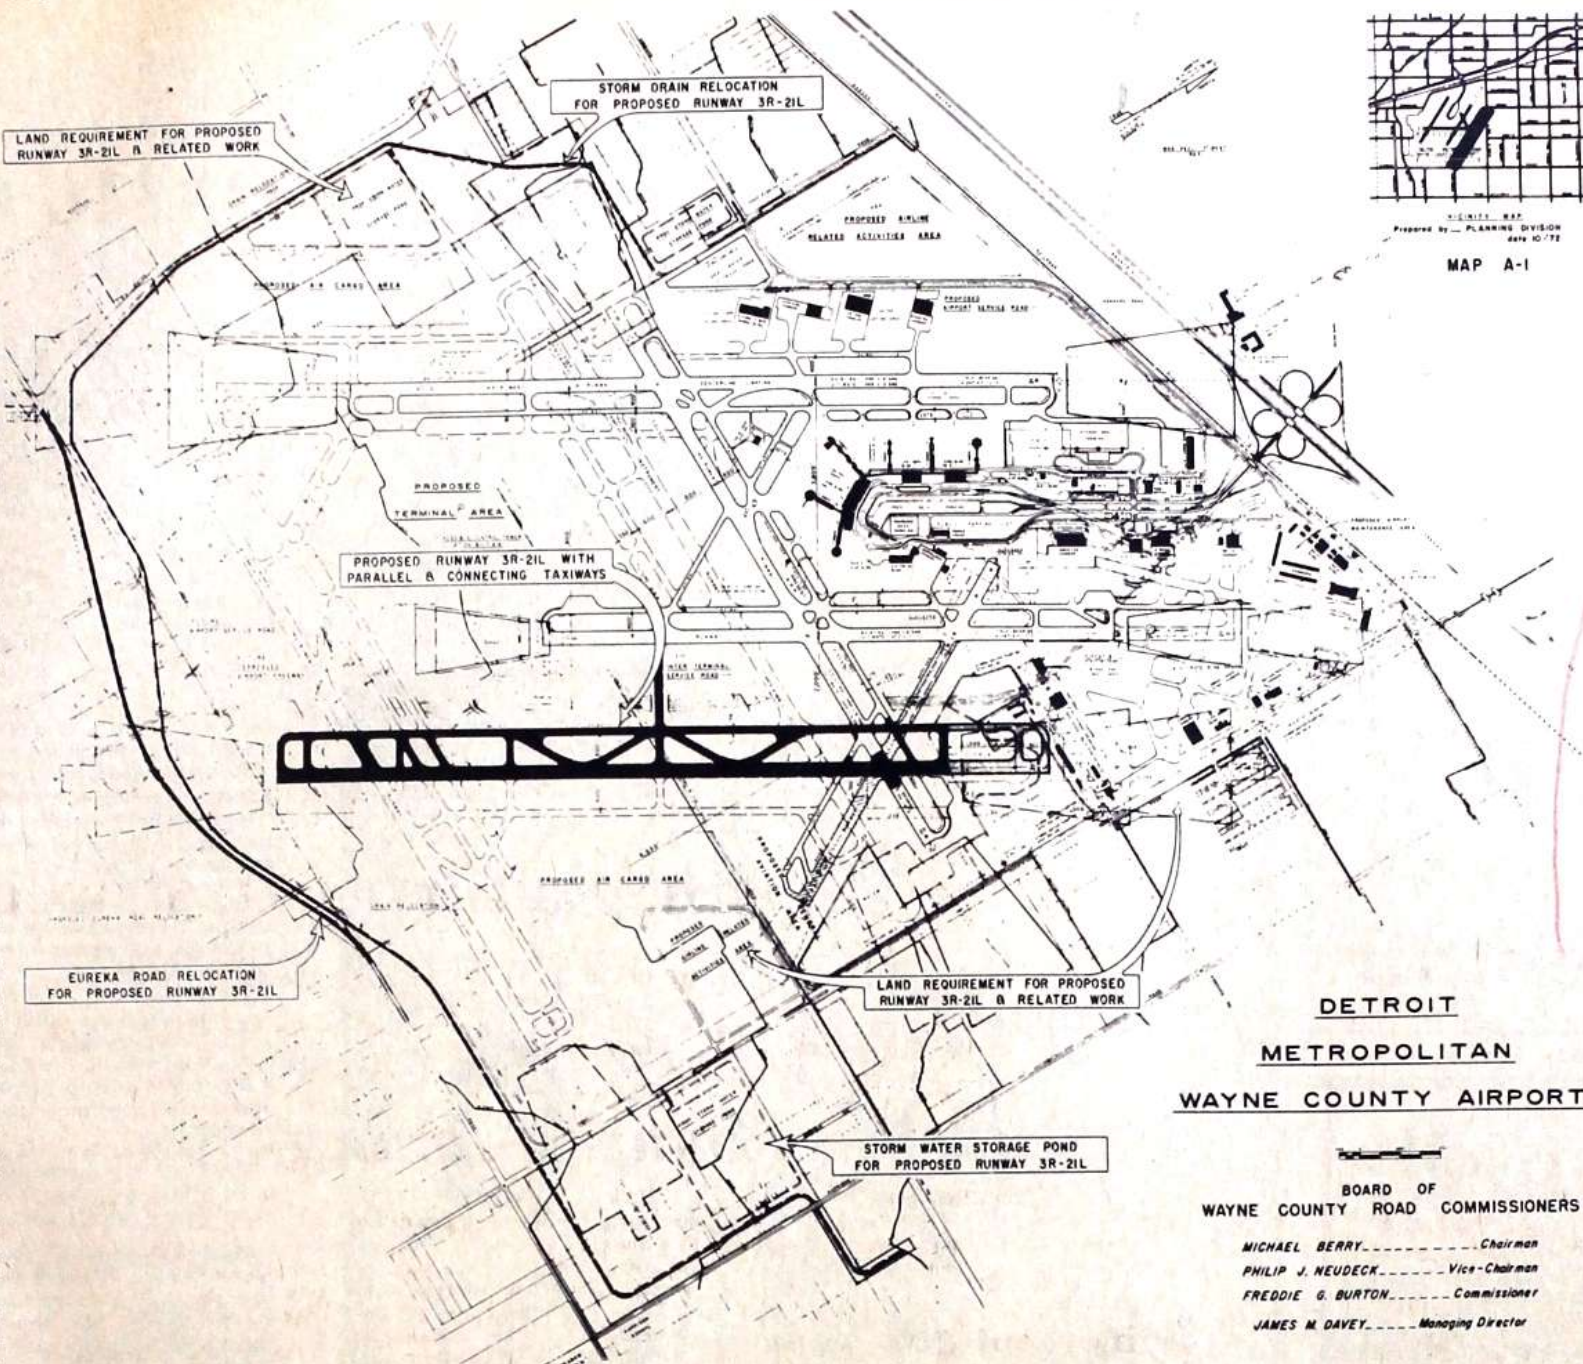

The new owners, Donald W. and Carol L. Pounds, filed a transfer request with the Michigan Liquor Control Commission (MLCC) which sought local government approval before issuing the permit.

Belleville okays law on garbage

An amendment to the City of Belleville's garbage and rubbish ordinance prohibiting the scattering, dumping or strewing of rubbish, garbage and other debris has been approved by the city council.

The council's action, effective Feb. 1, will prevent the scattering, dumping or strewing on public sites or allies or upon public property including vacant private property except under an appropriate city permit.

City officials have received complaints of passing rubbish trucks littering city streets on the way to rubbish dumps and the pushing of snow into streets from private property and sidewalks.

Van Buren building increases over 1971

Building operations in Van Buren Township during 1972 showed an increase over previous highs set in 1971 both in estimated construction costs and in the number of building projects according to an annual report issued by the township building department.

In 1972 the building department issued 2,309 permits including permits for other than building with an estimated cost of $12,044,343.

This compares with $11,426,066 in 1971.

Total building permit fees received by the township in 1972 amounted to $51,050. $58,302 was received in 1971.

Residential building last year was a construction cost of $11,016,109 compared with $10,538,954 in 1971.

There were 499 apartment units built in 1972, 97 townhouses, 461 garages and carports and an additional 18 buildings received township approval for $135,020 in construction last year.

The electrical division of the building department issued 592 permits and collected $11,592 in fees. The heating division issued 254 permits and collected $2,930 in fees and the plumbing division issued 313 permits and collected $9,569 in fees.

In addition township residents added 547 garages and carports in 1971.

Van Buren denies rezoning of land

The Van Buren Township Planning Commission has recommended the denial of a petition seeking the rezoning of a 5.36-acre land parcel, located on the southwest corner of Old Denton Road and the South Service Drive of the I-94 Expressway.

The petition filed by Louis A. Toth of 44119 Harmony Lane, Belleville, sought a change in the land parcel's present classification of single family to general office classification.

The rezoning request was filed by Toth who plans the construction of a cocktail lounge and restaurant.

The township board has under study an application filed by Toth for one of three Class C liquor licenses allotted the township by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission (MLCC).

Van Buren asks for white lines

The Van Buren Township Board of Trustees recently voted to request the State Highway Department to paint white lines down the center of the north and south service drives of the I-94 Expressway through the township.

Board member Steven Kuchta told his colleagues on the board that it is a safety hazard to drive on the south service drive between Denton and Rawsonville Roads because the driver is facing the east bound traffic on the I-94 Expressway on the right hand side of the road with bright lights and there is no center line to indicate where the road is, especially if the road is wet or foggy weather is present.

The Wayne Disposal Inc. was granted a two-year permit renewal to operate a landfill in Van Buren Township by the board.

Runway expansion raises several questions

By G. Elton Gollwitzer
Van Buren Township Supervisor

The hearing on the proposed new runway at Detroit-Metropolitan Airport was very well conducted and with meticulous care exercised that all be heard.

It lasted four hours. Much repetition, of course, and the following obvious situations were re-established: Those who live near an airport do not want it there and, most certainly, do not want the operation enlarged in any way.

2. Those who are interested in the "expansion of business" or whose job it is to provide for air transport facilities want to make the airport as large as they can.

I am alarmed at the way these verbose and endless proceedings can cover up the simple problem. They are conducted in such a manner as to discourage and dishearten the people in category No. 1 to the point of tiring, thus enabling the people in category No. 2 to prevail.

In this case the people (pro-expansionists) are so sure of the inevitable outcome of these hearings that they have already gone ahead and acquired 85 per cent of the land needed.

There will be a voluminous report of this meeting which will consequently make very tiresome reading. So let's take a look at the problem and the nature of the decision that someone has to make.

Granting that air transport seems, at present, "the way to go," how do we provide for the airports? Our form of government provides for the principle of eminent domain, which prevents a few from blocking projects for the good of many. One question here, however, is how much abuse must a relatively few be forced to take before it becomes obvious they have had their share.

In other words, is there not a limit to the size of an airport? It is necessary that an entire community be wiped out to serve other communities?

If a community voices its wishes through the democratic process, are they to be ignored? This attitude toward the wishes of the people makes many of us wonder whether or not we really do live in a democracy. We are given the opportunity to speak, but are completely ignored in the final analysis.

Air transport growth is like any other growth situation. Originally, centers (airports) are established to service large areas. Then, as the intensity of use grows, more activity is imported to these centers. Normally, new centers would spring up (for example, shopping centers) for the convenience of the various areas as the activity made it profitable for private enterprise.

But airports do not follow this usual law of supply and demand. Momentum and the power of the establishment promote unreasonable centralization.

A decision has to be made. Those who make it, will decide who is to take the abuse. No amount of quoting the expert professionals, no amount of devious answering, no amount of pointless talk can change the seriousness of this decision.

There must be some limit to the practical size of an airport. There must be some limit to the amount of abuse that can be forced upon a given community against its will.

There must be some way to oblige other communities who have sufficient transport activity to justify their own airport, to shoulder their share of abuse along with the convenience of better service. It is a certainty that fewer people will suffer at such a site than those living in a congested region around an existing airport.

Whichever group gets to decide, there should be no question that that group will be imposing a hardship on many people against their will.

Before this happens, there should be some proven necessity for it. Not because it's the easy way out! Not just because a well-organized group wants its airport to be bigger! Not because business-people, who themselves live miles away, want to force activity into the area in an unnatural way.

Let everyone know who made this decision and why it was so decided.

The threat of airport construction is so serious that a community so threatened becomes grossly impaired in its own development. If a limit is set, then those nearby would know that there was no possibility of going beyond that point and national planning could then take place.

We must have planning that can be depended upon.

Romulus chamber lauds seniors, mayor

To the editor:

The Romulus-Metro International Airport Chamber of Commerce wishes to announce publicly its appreciation to the Romulus Senior Citizens and the mayor of Romulus, Hyle J. Carmichael.

The Romulus chamber Tuesday needed a meeting area large enough to accommodate 200 or more people with ample parking facilities. City Hall in Romulus turned out to be just the answer where the chamber could hold its all-day session with scheduled meetings at 10 a.m., 2 p.m. and 6 p.m.

The purpose of the meeting was to gather together as many men and women in the business, professional, and educational fields as well as city officials during the course of one day and ask them, "What do you want the chamber to do for you?"

The Romulus chamber, in the process of charting its 1973 program, is interested in moving ahead in the direction most agreeable to all concerned.

Mayor Carmichael, realizing the necessity of the chamber's meeting and understanding the apparent problem of space and parking for those wanting to attend the chamber meeting, arranged with the Senior Citizens of Romulus (in behalf of the chamber) for the use of the City's facilities on that day.

The Senior Citizens graciously relinquished their use of the Community Service Room at City Hall on Tuesday which is the day that they hold their regular monthly membership meeting, so the chamber could have use of the room.

Cooperation, such as from the mayor, Senior Citizens and many other interested parties, help make the Romulus Chamber of Commerce able to function as it should for the benefit of the entire Romulus community.

Chamber president, Mr. Richard Enright, the chamber's executive board and board of directors are in complete agreement that the three meetings of Tuesday will bring about positive direction and goals for the organization to aim at and create even more interest for persons wanting to support the Romulus chamber's activities.

Final decision for the exact program or programs the chamber will embrace in 1973, based on the ideas and information collected from the days three meetings, will be made at the board's next regular meeting, Feb. 12.

Drowsy at the wheel? Stop for little rest

All of us who travel sometimes on expressways know well the penchant for a driver to become drowsy at the wheel.

Now Duke University researchers, reporting to the Society of Automotive Engineers assembled in Detroit, find that two-thirds of the drivers are so affected and that this drowsiness could be a significant cause of traffic accidents.

We're not surprised to read that those persons easily annoyed and prone to worry, who give up and evade responsibility constitute a class likely to have accidents through drowsiness. That much has been said before.

But we're a bit puzzled about that young drivers, men, and the college-educated, plus those who take long trips, are the most likely to be affected. Young drivers have the fastest reflexes.

Those on long trips over smooth highways, driving automobiles with powerful, quiet engines, and seated in comfortable seats in a sound-proofed interior can understandably be lulled into drowsiness, excessive relaxation, drowsiness and even sleep. We readily believe that from personal experiences.

The research findings came from North Carolina persons interviewed while getting licenses renewed in Durham.

The findings should dictate the remedies. If a person can get dangerously drowsy driving while normally alert, certainly he is courting death by driving drunk.

The AAA and other organizations have correctly advised drivers prone to drowsiness to stop at designated rest areas for a rest or a cup of coffee, not try to continue on long trips without an occasional pause.

Expressway driving is perilously monotonous. But such improved driving conditions as they afford must be tempered with judicious care at the wheel.

New bill to restrict unfair competition

By GARY OWEN,
State representative,
22nd District

The bill is similar to a measure offered in the 1972 session. That bill was passed in the House by an overwhelming 101-1 vote, but died in the Senate.

An identical bill has been introduced this session in the Senate by Sen. George S. Fitzgerald (D-Grosse Pointe Park).

I feel that this bill fills a void in Michigan's consumer protection statutes. Our present laws do not deal adequately with the problems caused by deceptive and unfair trade practices. The consumer who is cheated has very limited recourse.

There is a gray area of fraudulent business practices in which the attorney general, other law enforcement agencies and the courts are restricted in what they can do. The legislation that I have co-sponsored would correct this situation.

Such fraudulent practices include car warranties that are almost worthless, collection agencies which threaten or mislead consumers, self-improvement courses that do not produce promised results, health spas which make claims they are unable to deliver, kickbacks demanded by mobile home owners and many various other types of advertising.

These are just a few examples. There are many more.

Other states have statutes to control these types of practices and protect consumers but there is no solid law on the books in Michigan that really does the job.

Washington beat

By TOM OCHILTREE,
Daily Eagle
Washington
Bureau chief

Other states may brag about their gumbo, lobsters, home cured ham and candied yams but Michigan boasts the best hog dogs, sausages, bologna and luncheon meats in the United States and her congressmen are determined to keep it that way.

A bi-partisan group of them has introduced legislation which would protect Michigan's standards for prepared meats which are considerably higher than legal federal standards.

"I think this can be described as one of the great consumer bills for residents of the State of Michigan," Rep. Philip E. Ruppe said.

Ruppe, a Republican, and two Michigan democrats, Reps. William D. Ford and Lucien N. Nedzi, told a news conference recently that Michigan law allows only skeletal meat, basically muscle, in hot dogs, sausages, bologna and luncheon meats.

Federal rules, on the other hand, permit the use of virtually all animal parts, including tongues, lips, ears, udders, snouts, spleens, bladders, hearts and glands.

"In some places just about everything but the squeal of the pig goes into such products," Ford said. Nedzi explained: "This bill does not effect other states. It just says to leave Michigan alone."

In all, 14 Michigan congressmen joined in sponsoring the legislation. In addition to the three at the news conference they are Republicans Marvin L. Esch, William Broomfield, Robert Huber, Gary Brown, Elford Cederberg, James Harvey, Donald Riegle and Guy Vander Jagt and Democrats James O'Hara, John Dingell and Martha Griffiths.

The Michigan prepared meats standards were fixed by state statute in 1952. As Ford explained: "These standards are a source of pride both to the consumers and the meat industry in Michigan."

Following passage of the federal statute on the subject in 1967 three nationally known packing houses — Armour, Hormel and Wilson — filed suit to make Michigan conform to the lower federal standards.

A federal district court ruled in favor of Michigan but this was reversed by the U.S. Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals, which held that federal regulations pre-empt Michigan law. The case now is on the way to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Label requirements are less strict under the federal statute. Additionally, Ruppe pointed out, "Michigan's own law required sausages to contain 17 per cent more meat than the minimum requirement under the federal standard and ground beef must contain 15 per cent more meat."

The difference is accounted for, in part, by the higher fat content allowed by the federal regulations.

On the first day of the 77th session of the Michigan House of Representatives, I co-sponsored a bill to control deceptive and unfair trade practices.

The bill, which I favor wholeheartedly, is designed to control unfair competition and misleading practices on the part of business and to allow the attorney general to obtain injunctions against those practices.

If they are enacted, he

Youth Day celebration set in area

First Baptist Church of Romulus will celebrate Youth Day Sunday. The youth of the church conduct the services and perform all other duties of worship except those of the pastor. In past years the day has been a great success, for the youth become a part of what they sometimes term as "old time religion" according to the pastor.

The speaker will be a young man that has just become a licensed minister, Rev. Barry White. Born in 1954, to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin White, he has been singing since the age of three.

He rendered his first recital at the age of four. Since then he appeared in more than one hundred recitals at various places throughout the country. He has received many awards for his singing, among those are the Key to the City of Flint, and the Key to the City of Pennsylvania.

In June, 1969, at the age of 14, Barry graduated from Cass Technical High School with honors. He is now a senior at Wayne State University, where he is majoring in English. He is the youngest student to be admitted to the university.

In 1969, Barry addressed both bodies of the Michigan Legislature. At that time he was awarded a House resolution, thus being the youngest person to receive such an honor in 136 years of the history of the legislature.

Barry has appeared on television and radio, including the program "Profiles in Black." He is a licensed minister and plans to continue his studies at a seminary beginning in September.

Church services begin at 10 a.m., and the afternoon program will begin at 4 p.m. The church is located on the corner of Delano and Roselawn, South of Goddard Rd.

Registration set for adults

Registration for winter adult education classes is underway, according to William Smith, Romulus community school director. A variety of high school credit courses are available for adults who wish to complete their high school educations, including American government and history, math, science, typing, child development and English.

A GED test also is being offered and successful completion of the test earns a high school equivalency certificate from the Michigan Department of Education. The current testing dates for the ten hour exam include Jan. 30, 31 and Feb. 1 from 6 to 10 p.m.

A variety of enrichment classes also is being offered through the services of Romulus Continuing Education. These classes include cake decorating, sewing, crocheting and painting as well as electronics, woodworking, women's auto mechanics, modern dance, transcendental meditation and yoga. Enrichment classes are scheduled to begin the week of Feb. 5. Adult driver's training also is offered and is arranged to the convenience of the student's schedule.

Information and registration information regarding any of the Continuing Education activities may be obtained by calling 941-1600, ext. 37 during the day or 941-2173 between 6:30 and 8:30 p.m.

Warning signal will be installed

Use care with fondue pots

Open flames, liquid fuels and boiling oil -- would you invite that trio to sit on your dinner table?

No? But that's exactly what you do, says Michigan State University foods specialist Marilyn Mook, when you use a liquid alcohol-fueled fondue pot. And the opportunities for accident are many.

"What could pose more potential danger than a pot of hot, bubbling oil on an unstable tripod in the middle of a table surrounded by a group of partying friends?" she asks.

The temperature of that oil ranges from 350 to 450 degrees Fahrenheit. All it takes is a careless gesture or a sleeve catching on the pot's handle and someone has a lap full of hot oil -- and probably second- or third-degree burns.

THE INSTABILITY of the pot on the tripod represents a real danger, Miss Mook points out. The taller and more graceful a pot, the easier it is to knock it off the tripod.

Of the three types of fondue pots, open-flame models are the most dangerous, Miss Mook says. The ones fueled with liquid alcohol burn with a hot, clear, almost odorless and invisible flame. Accidents often occur during refueling. If alcohol is added before the flame is extinguished, the flame quickly spreads to tabletop, clothing and fuel container, which then explodes.

Solid or jellied fuel is easier and safer to use because it will not spill and its flame can easily be put out. Any open flame is a fire hazard, however, and the relative safety of the solid fuel should not lead you to handle it carelessly.

others, Miss Mook notes. Most have a signal light that indicates when the oil has reached the desired temperature and an automatic thermostat that keeps the oil temperature constant. Alcohol-fueled pots are difficult to adjust, and the temperature fluctuates.

The major disadvantage of the electric fondue is the cord. People tend to trip over cords, and the result can be serious injury. You can avoid this danger by taping the cord to a table leg so that someone tripping over it will not pull the pot off the table into someone's lap.

The shape of the pot is another consideration. You can get a pot with straight sides or one with sloping sides. A straight-sided pot is generally used for cheese fondue, when the temperature of the mixture is lower than that of hot oil. A slope-sided pot (it slopes toward the center) is used for meat fondue. The spatters of hot oil tend to stay inside the pot rather than on the table cloth. If you plan to buy only one fondue pot, probably a slope-sided pot is the better choice. You can use it with relative safety for both cheese and meat fondue.

Some fondue pots are made of thinner metal than others. Remember that high heat can eventually warp a pan, and this could happen with a cheap fondue pot over a hot alcohol flame. You generally get what you pay for in fondue pots: the inexpensive ones are thin metal; the more expensive ones are probably stainless steel.

If you're buying a fondue pot for yourself or for a gift, keep these safety factors in mind, the specialist urges. If you already have one of the open-flame types, use it carefully.

Flat Rock church is chosen for ceremony

Irene Martha Baenziger of New Boston and Douglas George Arnold of Camp Hill, Pennsylvania were united in marriage December 23 at the First United Methodist Church of Flat Rock. Christmas wreaths and red and white poinsettias adorned the altar for the candlelight ceremony conducted by the Rev. R. D. Carter.

Karen Vandecar, soloist for the occasion, was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. McLellen Morford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a toe-touching gown of white crepe designed with bands of pearl beading on the high neckline, lifted bodice and long, full sleeves.

Her bouffant illusion veil, cut in three tiers, drifted to cathedral length as she walked. A cascade bouquet of white roses and forget-me-nots completed her ensemble.

MRS. ROBERT KIR-

SINER was her sister's honor attendant in a red velvet gown and matching veiled head-dress. The basket she held was filled with red roses and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids in identical outfits were Mrs. Robert Koppes, sister of the bridegroom, and Lynn Kirsner, niece of the bride.

The bridegroom's brother-in-law, Robert Koppes, served as best man while Robert Kirsner and Robert Van Dyke, brother-in-law and cousin, respectively, of the bride, carried out the roles of ushers.

At the reception which followed in the fellowship hall, the bride's mother received in a long red gown and the bridegroom's mother in a pale blue formal. Both added corsages of white roses to their frocks.

After their two weeks honeymoon in Florida, the newlyweds made their home in Camp Hill, Pennsylvania.

A 1968 graduate of Huron High School, the bride attended Monroe Community College and Eastern Michigan University. Her husband is employed as a construction foreman in Camp Hill.

Parents of the young couple are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Baenziger of 34375 Willow Road, New Boston, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Arnold of 415 Lamp Post Lane, Camp Hill, Pennsylvania.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

As we approach Lincoln and Washington's birthdays, we are reminded of their identical virtues: their principles of personal honesty. Both men handed down a heritage of honesty that later generations, including our own, have all too often shamefully disgraced. Neither man ever prostituted honesty, not even slightly. Both men gained recognition as honest men by simply being honest. Neither man wore lapel buttons worded "Honest Abe" or "Truthful George". By their day by day actions the word got around.

Long before Lincoln became President, and especially during his impoverished years when he sorely needed money, i.e. had opportunities to pocket tainted money, but never did. Washington once said, "I hope I shall always possess firmness and virtue enough to maintain what I consider the most enviable of all titles, 'the character of an honest man'."

In the callous cynicism of present day society, it sometimes seems our moral moorings are being loosened. February 12th and 22nd should remind us of this loosening up and give us reason to do some tightening up before time runs out . . .

The engagement of their daughter, Deborah Kathleen, to David Harold Brownlee is announced by Mr. and Mrs. William H. Harcas of 19375 Lohr Road, Belleville. The couple plan to be married August 4.

A 1969 graduate of Belleville High School, the bride-elect is currently in her senior year at Eastern Michigan University where she is majoring in art education.

MISS HARCAS

She also is doing her student teaching in Westland and works part-time as a receptionist in her parents flower shop, Harcas Greenhouse and Florist, Belleville.

Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brownlee of 11525 Dewitt, Belleville. He was graduated in 1968 from Belleville High and in 1972 from Eastern Michigan University where he earned his B. S. Degree in industrial technology. At present he is employed at EMU as an architectural draftsman.

Her full-length lace veil was secured by a beaded cap of lace with a bow at the back and her bridal bouquet was comprised of white roses.

THE BRIDEGROOM'S sister, Yvonne Gram, came from Tennessee Temple College to serve as honor attendant. Another of the bridegroom's sisters, Bonnie Gram, and Marcie Borgman of Belleville were bridesmaids.

Their dresses in red, blue and green were fashioned with contrasting chiffon sleeves on the velvet bodices and chiffon skirts ruffled at the hemline.

Two of the bride's cousins, Janell Minton, four and a half, and Gerry Minton, six and a half, traveled from New London, Ohio, to carry out the roles of flowergirl and ringbearer, respectively.

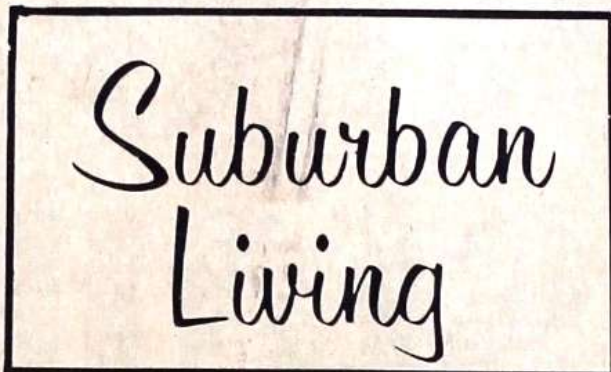

BEST MAN was the bridegroom's brother, Paul Gram. Others on the esquire side were Kenneth Cox of Belleville, brother of the bride, and Randy Hill from Imlay City.

Following their reception at the church, the newlyweds departed for a week-long honeymoon in the South. For traveling, the bride changed to a wool pant suit.

The bridegroom is currently serving with the U.S. Navy aboard the USS Independence at Norfolk, Virginia.

Villa-Fritz nuptials solemnized in Detroit

Heading for the East Coast after their December 16 marriage, the newly wed Anthony Villas honeymooned for two weeks in Boston, New York City and Washington, D. C. Since their return they have been making their home at 8301 16 1/2 Mile Road, Apt. 273, Sterling Heights.

Diana Helene Fritz, daughter of Mrs. Bernice Fritz of 3509 Dolores, Warren, became Mrs. Villa in a four thirty ceremony at St. Paul's Cathedral in Detroit. The candlelight high mass was celebrated by the Rev. Kingsley Docksey before some 75 relatives and close friends. For the occasion the altar was appointed with bouquets of white mums, red carnations and holly.

Elwyn Davies was at the organ to play Mendelson's "Water Music", "Ave Maria", "The Lord's Prayer", and "Song of Ruth." AN UNCLE of the bride, Al Wojtas, escorted her to the sanctuary. For her wedding day, she donned an ivory gown of Alencon lace accented with seed pearls at the high neckline, on the long sleeves down the front of the A-line creation, and on the cathedral-length train.

She wore a Juliet cap of matching lace and seed pearls which extended to cathedral length. Her bouquet was fashioned of white carnations, roses, baby's breath, and holly.

Preceding the bride up the aisle and appearing in dresses she had made were her three attendants, Mrs. Maria Mayer of Sterling Heights, the matron of honor, Gloria Fritz of Warren, sister of the bride; and Mrs. Sam Villa, Jr., of Belleville, sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

Hot pink crepe polyester formed the bodices of the frocks while Italian velveteen in winter rose made up the skirts and bolero jackets. Their Juliet caps were in matching burgundy with pink trim and their bouquets were comprised of red sweetheart roses, white carnations, baby's breath, and holly.

SAM VILLA, JR. of Belleville was his brother's best man. Ushers were Richard Walko of Warren and another of the bridegroom's brothers, Richard Villa of Belleville.

Athena Hall in Roseville was reserved for the reception which followed. The bride's mother greeted guests in a pale pink formal gown of polyester silk with jeweled trim on the neckline and cuffs. The bridegroom's step-mother, Mrs. Linda Villa, chose a green chiffon gown accented with beading at the waistline. Both were presented with corsages of baby roses and carnations.

A 1966 graduate of Fitzgerald High School, the new Mrs. Villa attended Wayne State University and is currently employed as a secretary in Troy. Her husband, a graduate of D.I.T., is presently working on his master's degree at Wayne State while employed as a construction engineer in Southfield.

The rehearsal dinner December 8 was given by the bride's mother in the party room of Cambridge House Apartments.

Sheriff's department prepares for 'copters

The Wayne County Sheriff's Department is readying its two helicopters that will be used as pursuit aircraft to aid of the sheriff's executive division, said the helicopters will be piloted by two veterans who flew search and rescue missions in Vietnam.

The helicopters will be outfitted with multi-frequency calls in southeastern Michigan, high-intensity search lights and pontoons.

The federal government provided $163,235 of the grant, the state $15,976 and Wayne County $81,889. However, $77,100 of the county's share represents such costs as wages for pilots and observers.

The pilots, deputies Dennis Rautio and Thomas Davenport, were hired by the sheriff three years ago in anticipation of the program.

Heideman stated both men, a third pilot still to be assigned to the division and three observers who will occupy the passenger seats in the three-seated helicopters, will undergo training before the helicopters are placed in service this summer.

The helicopters will be quartered at the road patrol headquarters, located on Henry Ruff Road, in Westland.

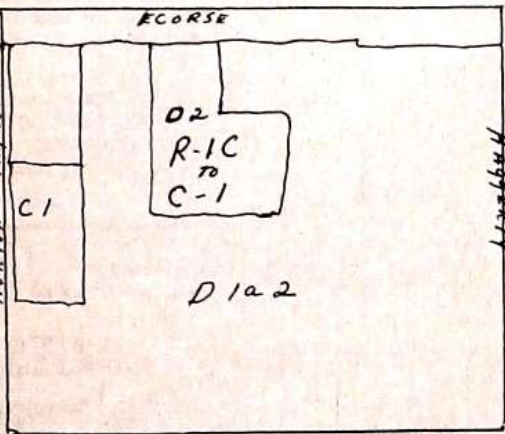

Two metal hangers are to be erected within two to three months, Heideman said. Bids for the construction will be sought after specifications are completed within the next few weeks.

The one-year state and federal grant share may be renewed depending upon how well statistics show the aircraft are preventing and detecting crime, he said.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

Question: Is it true that this year's Federal income tax return asks questions related to Federal revenue sharing?

Answer: Yes. Your 1972 Form 1040 and short Form

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

1040A ask two questions related to the sharing of Federal money with state and local governments. One question asks the location of your principal place of residence (state, county, locality & township); the second question asks for the number of your dependents who are filing a return of their own or who did not live at your principal place of residence at the end of 1972.

You must supply the correct information in your answers to these questions to ensure that your state, county and local community receive their rightful share of revenue sharing funds.

Question: Can you give me some tips on how to guard against dishonest tax preparers?

Answer: The IRS offers the following advice to taxpayers seeking assistance from commercial income tax return preparers: never sign a blank return; do not sign a tax return prepared in pencil because it can be changed later; do not allow your refund check to be mailed to the preparer; avoid the advisor who "guarantees" refunds, wants a percentage of the refund, or supposedly knows all the angles; and avoid the preparer who advises a taxpayer to overstate deductions, claim fictitious dependents or omit income. In addition, taxpayers should insist that the tax preparer sign the return he prepares and enter his tax identifying number. Finally, be sure to keep a copy of your return.

Question: I had no income tax liability for 1972, but I'm filing a return to recover income tax withheld from my pay. Can I still designate $1 of the tax withheld towards the Presidential Election Campaign Fund?

Answer: No. You can only make the $1 check-off if you had an income tax liability. This does not mean that because you are getting a refund, you can't use the $1 check-off, but it does mean that you must be able to show tax on line 20 of your Form 1040 or line 21 of your short Form 1040A to use the check-off.

Forsenics team wins

The Eastern Michigan University forsenics team has placed third in national competition for the past two years and has a strong chance of winning first place this spring, according to Dennis Beagan, director of forsenics.

The team will be competing on home grounds since EMU was chosen as the site of the 1973 National Individual Events Tournament to be held on April 27-29.

Among the members of EMU's forsenics team for the spring term is Jerry Blumh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Blumh of 355 Brain Ave., Belleville.

Eastern's team made up 27 speech majors, won 57 trophies in five interstate meets during the fall term. They won first place in three and placed second in the other two.

Child care Parents expect more from Johnny

Question: We have three children, an 8-year-old boy (I'll call him Johnny), a 4-year-old boy (Billy), and a 2-year-old girl (Beth). Here's our problem. Johnny is never willing to help with chores around the house. He won't make up his bed or hang up his clothes. He dislikes clearing the table at night or picking up the toys Billy and Beth have left out. If Johnny makes chocolate milk before going to bed, he'll make it only for himself and not for them.

Occasionally Johnny will do chores under pressure, but he'll always say "Why do you always make me do things?" Is this normal for an 8-year-old boy? Is there anything we can do to change Johnny? What are we doing wrong? Can you recommend a good book on children? - Mrs. R.

Answer: Older children often feel discriminated against, and sometimes they are. Parents usually expect more of the older child than they do of younger ones. Perhaps you've been saying "Johnny, you're old enough to know better," or "Please pick up all the toys and straighten up the room. You're old enough to know how to do it and Billy and Beth aren't."

So Johnny may feel he's treated unfairly, because of his age and place in the family.

Here are my suggestions for helping the situation:
1. Make sure Johnny gets more praise and affection. Make him feel important.

2. Try to put yourself in Johnny's place; try to understand how he feels; try putting his feelings into words. Say, "I know it annoys you for Billy and Beth to make a mess and for mother to expect you to pick it up." By letting him know that you know how he feels, you'll immediately make him feel better.

3. Pay Johnny for specific chores and duties, especially things that he has to do which aren't expected of Billy and Beth. Use tokens or play money. Give Johnny a white token each time he fixes chocolate milk for baby sister, a red token for each time he straightens up the room and maybe a blue token for emptying the garbage. Let him collect these tokens and when he's earned 10, 20 or 30, exchange them for some prize or award he'd like to have.

As for books, one of my favorites is Haim Ginott's book, "Between Parent and Child." You can get it in a paperback edition in most drugstores or newstands.

Aged get 312-bed home

Ground breaking ceremonies were held Friday for the Allan Dee Wayne Intermediate Care Facility at Van Born and Merriman Roads.

The 312 bed Home for the Aged is being built by the Elliott General Hospital Corp., a non profit group.

It is designed for those older citizens who need assistance in the daily activities of living, but do not require constant nursing care. The facility will offer assistance with food, dressing and other day to day functions.

The building is designed, outfitted, and staffed to provide a full diversional activities program for the residents. A registered nurse, though not required by the state, will be in full time attendance to coordinate the medical services that will be provided by the Attending Medical Staff.

This intermediate care facility is the second in the nation to be financed through the HUD office. The first to be so financed was the Allan Dee Fraser Intermediate Care Facility now under construction at Fourteen Mile and Utica Roads in the city of Fraser.

Both facilities will accommodate two, three, and four bedrooms, with a large central dining room and numerous day rooms for smaller group activities and for individual use. The decor and design of the structures is such as to set a mood of pleasant relaxed living.

Educators hear report

A progress report on the proposed building trades course for Belleville High School recently was presented at the Van Buren Board of Education meeting.

The report was presented by Raymond Kohr, the school district's director of curriculum and instruction. At the same meeting, Richard Hanson discussed school-related topics which had been discussed at an earlier meeting of the Van Buren Township Planning Commission.

A new alarm system has been installed and is in operation at Belleville North Junior High.

Gregory Heuer, Belleville High School's band director, proposed that new uniforms be purchased for the band members.

Recent vandalism at the Belleville High School athletic field and proposed lighting improvements at Belleville South Junior High were other topics of discussion.

The board's next meeting will be held Feb. 12 at the Board of Education offices, 555 W. Columbia Ave.

10-mill levy asked in Huron

Huron School district voters will be asked to renew a ten mill levy for school operations in a special election on March 26.

The 10-mill levy was approved by voters five years ago. If approved, the renewal would be used to maintain the present school programs.

"Despite the fact that only the Detroit Public Schools raise less money by combined state-aid and local tax effort in Wayne County, our district is not seeking a tax increase at this time," said Huron District Supt. Byron Antcliff.

Antcliff also said "the present state of confusion regarding property taxes will make passage difficult."

It is necessary to hold the special election before April in order to notify teachers who would not be retained should the millage fail.

The choir group is planning a world-wide tour for next year.

Dallas is a member of St. John's Lutheran Church, Waltham. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dubke of New Boston.

Commissioners consider county-wide judge election

A resolution urging the State Legislature to order county-wide election of Detroit Recorder's Court and Common Pleas Court judges is before the Wayne County Board of Commissioners for consideration.

The resolution was approved by the board's Public Safety & Judiciary Committee Jan. 17 and will be acted on by the full board at its meeting Feb. 1.

Its sponsor, Commissioner George Z. Hart of Dearborn (D-District 23) said he believed the resolution has "a very good chance" of being approved by the full board and the Legislature.

Another resolution calling on the Board of Commissioners to withhold the $24,000 county portion of the judicial salary of new Recorder's Judge Justin C. Ravitz was tabled for two weeks by the committee.

Hart and Commissioner Richard E. Manning of Redford (D-Dist. 18) urged that the county withhold its share of Ravitz's salary after he remained seated and silent during the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag at the swearing-in of new judges Dec. 19.

The committee tabled the matter to await a written opinion from the County Corporation Counsel as to whether the commissioners have the authority to withhold the salary.

The resolution submitted by Hart and Manning also urged the Board of Commissioners to complain formally to the State Judicial Tenure Commission about the "moral and ethical fitness" of Ravitz.

Training programs set in area

A training session for persons connected with the Cub Scout program began yesterday at North Junior High School in Belleville. Other sessions will be held at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 30 and Feb. 6.

A Feb. 13 session will be devoted to Webelos. Admission is $1.50.

For information, call Charlene McNally at 697-8101.

whom they described as an "avowed Marxist."

In calling for county-wide election of Recorder's Court and Common Pleas judges, Hart stated:

"It is a matter of simple equity. I think there is growing recognition that it is unfair to tax all the taxpayers of Wayne County to finance those two courts, while limiting the right to vote and to run for the two benches to Detroiters."

In his resolution, Hart charged that the present restriction constitutes "taxation without representation" and a violation of the constitutional concepts of equal protection of the laws and "one-person, one-vote."

Pack 735 meets

Scout Pack 735 recently met at Cory School in Romulus. Awards were presented to members of Den One. They included a Denner to Robert Weslin; Assistant Denner and wolf award to Hart pointed out that general tax funds from the county treasury pay the $2.4 million annual cost of the Recorder's Court probation department and $24,000 of the current salary of $35,912 for recorder's judges. The City of Detroit pays the balance of the judges' salaries.

The county also pays the entire $2 million annual cost of Common Pleas Court, including judges' salaries.

The two courts were created by the Legislature. Recorder's Court has jurisdiction over all criminal cases originating in Detroit. Common Pleas Court handles civil claims of up to $10,000 and landlord-tenant disputes, and is authorized to handle criminal arraignments arising outside Detroit.

Hart said he will take his case to court if his resolution does not result in county-wide election to the two courts.

Juniors save money for trip

BY SUE MORRIS

Juniors planning to go on the senior trip have an opportunity to begin saving money.

Mr. Coleman, class advisor, announced that those juniors wishing to do so may deposit money which will be held in a special bank account until needed for the trip.

In order to vote on the class' destination in 1974, a student must have $50 in the account by next October.

The $50 will be refunded if the student later decides he does not want to make the trip.

To break up the monotony of school between now and spring vacation, the student council is sponsoring a winter homecoming during the week of Feb. 19.

Events to be held are still in the planning stages, but such things as a sled race, a winter obstacle course, a snowman contest and cafeteria decorating are among the possible activities.

Student council members have expressed the hope that this will become an annual happening, to which students will look forward to as much as fall homecoming.

"Welcome to the Monkey House," the school play which was to have been presented in early spring, has been cancelled due to lack of student participation.

After a strenuous two days of exams, students will be able to rest their weary brains on Friday when there is no school.

Nurse's course is set for study

The Michigan State Association of Industrial Nurses (MSAIN) and Oakland University's division of continuing education announce a new independent study course in management for occupational health nurses.

Until now no course or definitive source books in occupational health nursing have been available in Michigan. The 15-lessons, mailed on a weekly basis, cover the nurse as manager, social psychologist and educator.

The course helps fulfill the American Board of Occupation Health Nurses, Inc., general eligibility requirement Part A, No. 2, for certification in occupational health nursing. While MSAIN members may enroll for the credit-free course at any time, the first mailing of course materials will be made in February.

The $100 tuition includes text, supplementary materials, comments on each lesson by an instructor, mailing envelopes and postage.

CHANGING DECOR — Special planning can change an ordinary dining area into a useful "family" room. This dining area was created by extending a shelf from the bookcase and adding chrome legs.

Post-plank shelves lend new look to dining area

Distinction can be added to a modest dining alcove to create a special, comfortable mood often lacking in less formal areas.

Many homes don't have a separate dining room, but dining in or near the kitchen still can be accomplished with style. If the area reflects the good tastes of the family, it's likely also to give pleasure to company.

A striking way to add strong character, good looks and utility to a room is with a shelf system of heavy western wood posts and planks in a simple tick-tack-toe grid along one wall.

First, an unfussy wallpaper will add pattern to the shelf wall, or paint can be applied to complement the furnishings.

The main shelf, about 30 inches off the floor, is one 4 x 12-inch plank or eight 2x4s nail-laminated on edge. To be used as a sideboard and even for extra places for buffets, it must be set on sturdy brackets.

Vertical 4 x 4-inch posts extend from floor to ceiling, two or three depending on length of shelves. An upper shelf, set at eye level for display of prized china or nicknacks, is of the same 4x4 lumber.

Posts can be cut or notched, but the shelf should have a continuous appearance. Lag screws set deep in shelf and posts to fasten to wall studs look neater than brackets. Wood plugs would fill the holes, if desired.

Western softwoods, such as fir, pine or hemlock, are well-suited for the shelf system, and will take any finish well. Stain can be matched to the furniture or with certain backgrounds and furnishings a stark white painted finish is effective.

This shelf arrangement also can be used as a desk for school or office homework, writing letters and paying bills, or for hobbies and crafts.

If the dining area directly adjoins the kitchen, it can be made more intimate in several ways — a dropped ceiling or lattice of 1x2s over the table, a decorative screen of wood slats or dowels, or island counters that divide and serve both areas.

IMPROVE YOUR HOME

Kitchen, dining area need to be 'face lifted'

Do you live in a house or apartment that you really like and don't intend to leave?

Are you, nonetheless, dissatisfied with a kitchen and family eating area that's outdated?

If your home is 10 years old or older and hasn't been remodeled you probably feel that your kitchen, dining area, or both need a change, Barbara Brody, interior design consultant to a leading manufacturer of metal dining furniture.

"It's the age of the dwelling that does it and not necessarily the years a woman has actually lived and worked in the rooms," Miss Brody said. "After all, tremendous changes do take place in kitchen equipment and dining room decor in a decade."

Whether you're a new bride starting from scratch in an old efficiency apartment or a seasoned homemaker trying to breathe new life into a well-worn kitchen, the "how" of it takes special planning.

Miss Brody pointed out that major architectural alterations and replacing of basic equipment may cost several thousand dollars.

"If your budget is slim," she said, "you can still work minor decorating miracles with paint, wallpaper, a new wall accessory or two, and a handsome new table and chairs."

She said home owners or apartment dwellers can investigate highly styled metal table and chair groupings that are practical and durable, yet add a design excitement of their own.

For example, laminated table tops come in a variety of shapes and sizes that simulate marble, slate, woods and leathers while being scuff, scratch, and stain resistant.

New dinette chairs also have made extraordinary strides in terms of appeal and comfort.

MODERN DINETTE — Capsule space is maximized in a dining corner with an expandable see-through table and a wall-hugging china cabinet loaded with storage space. Rosewood grain on the melamine table leaf and cabinet doors provides a warm, earthbound touch. The arm chairs are chrome-plated and vinyl-wrapped.

Dinette sets are styled to fit in most any room

NEW YORK — Where has the dining room gone? Into the living room, family room, corner of a big kitchen — anywhere the family chooses to dine.

The new about-the-house dining pattern sees meals served anywhere and everywhere — but it doesn't mean tray-table informality.

Instead, the trend is toward elegance — expressed in up-to-date dinette sets styled to fit almost any design for living.

No strictly-for-the-kitchen styles, these. From tops to bottom, today's dinette tables show new contours, colors, textures and finishes.

Go-together chairs come forth in director's versions, in saddle style, in traditional and contemporary designs.

Fashionways for this year's vinyls — it's the fabric that upholsters most of the new dinette sets — run from graphics to leather looks, from subtle tweeds to bold florals.

Here's the Answer

By ANDY LANG

Q. — The wall light switch in one of our rooms is out of order. When you flip it out or down, it doesn't have the regular click that the others have and, besides, it doesn't turn on the light. I checked the fixture to be sure it isn't the bulb. I have been told that changing the wall switch is one of the easiest of all electrical tasks, but I don't want to tackle it unless I am sure that I know what I am doing. Can you help me?

A. — Yes. It is one of the simplest repairs, as you have been told. But you'd better check to determine whether the electrical code in your area permits an unlicensed electrician to replace a wall switch.

The first step in the replacement is to turn off the power to the circuit that controls the switch. If you do not have the equipment or the knowledge to discover with certainty that there is no electricity running to the switch, better turn off the electricity in the entire house. It may be inconvenient to do this, but it's safe.

Next, remove the two screws that hold the face plate secure. After you put down the plate, remove the two screws that hold the switch in place.

You now will be able to pull out the switch from the metal box in the wall. Do it gently and bring it out only far enough so the two wires to which it is connected are fairly straight. See if the ends of the two wires are firmly attached to the two screws in the switch. If one of them is loose, reconnect it, replace the switch and plate and turn on the power. You'll find that the switch now works.

But if both wires are securely attached to the screws, then the inside of the switch is at fault and you'll need a new one. It is almost impossible to repair the old switch, so don't waste your time on it.

Replacing the old switch with a new one involves nothing more than unscrewing the wires, then attaching them to the newly purchased switch. Always twist the wire around the terminal in a clockwise direction. Then, when you turn the screw in its proper clockwise course, it will tend to hold the wire in place rather than dislodge it.

Carefully push the switch back into the metal box and screw it into place. Replace the face plate and the job is done. Then, and only then, restore the power.

Finishing a basement or an attic? Making an outdoor shed? Cutting wood for shelves or cabinets? Doing any kind of home remodeling?

If you don't have a stationary saw, such as a table or radial saw, you're in for a rough time unless you have the next best thing — a portable electric circular saw. It may not be as precise as a stationary saw, but it will handle the cutting of wood and other materials which cannot be brought to such a machine. And you can't cut curves with it, as you can with a saber or jig saw, but it can be used for larger and tougher chores that are beyond the capacity of that kind of saw.

While it is generally used for cutting wood, the portable circular saw can handle metals, plastics, asbestos boards, concrete blocks and almost every other kind of material. The combination blade that usually comes with the saw handles wood; special blades must be purchased for cutting other materials.

The advertised size of a saw is identical with the diameter of the blade that fits it. There are various sizes, the most popular being the 7¼-inch model. In buying such a saw, it should be held in the hand and moved around a bit by the person who will use it. This is a good principle to follow in the purchase of any tool or, for that matter, any small, hand-held appliance, such as an iron. It should "feel" right or you will soon tire of it.

Most portable circular saws now have a variety of safety features. Some — a little more expensive, but worth it — have double insulation to protect against shocks if something goes wrong. If the saw doesn't have double insulation, it is imperative that it be grounded. The instructions that come with it will tell you how to do this, usually by inserting the third wire on the plug under the head of the screw that holds the cover plate to the outlet. Most saws now have an antikickback action so that the saw will not kick back if it hits an obstruction in the material you are cutting.

Angle cuts can be made by using a tilting arrangement. There is also an adjustment for setting the depth of cut to where you want it. This is not only useful for cutting dado grooves but for setting the blade when you want to go through the material but avoid cutting whatever is under it.

Whether using a portable circular saw or jig saw or even a portable electric drill, the machine should not be set down until the blade or bit has stopped moving.

As a result of the cooperation of Belleville area residents, the Lions Club reached the goal - the sale of 3,524 candy canes, santas and snowmen during the Yuletide season. Proceeds from the sale will be used to fund Lions projects to aid the visually handicapped.

At the Jan. 10 meeting local Lions were "treated" to a first-hand demonstration on the use of a leader dog by Lion Ed Bohanon of Garden City.

Belleville area Lions directors, at their Jan. 17 meeting, voted to donate $500

Lion Ed is blind and has had training at the leader dog school with his dog Yogi. Local residents have seen this happy twosome participate with local Lions in the Santa Claus parade the last two years.

The next regular meeting of Belleville Area Lions will be held on Jan. 24, at Rogalle's Lounge. Lion Archie Racine from the Michigan Eye Bank will present the program. Rawsonville and Canton Lions members have been invited to join us for the evening.

Lions International is a rapidly growing organization. On Jan. 20 the 26,000th Lions Club was chartered at Union City. Lion Bob Cook represented the area club and accompanied past district Governor Chuck Lavery to the chartering ceremonies.

Another new Lion member will be inducted soon. He is Belleville High School swimming coach Sam Vicchy.

City approves library report

A quarterly report recently submitted to the Romulus City Council and covering the last three months of 1972 was approved by the council.

The report was filed by Mrs. Diane Hazen, librarian. According to the report, book circulation peaked at an all time high in August with 6,671 items circulated. The fall circulation has been comparable to last year's.

The use of the Audio Visual equipment in the library has fallen off somewhat.

The staff has noticed increasing use of the library in the evenings by high school and college students for reference work and study.

The summer reading club ended successfully with a party in the city hall Community Room for the award winners. There were 66 children who took an active part and 48 of those received awards for reading 10 or more books.

The total number of books read by the group was 1,801. There were 34 first place awards given for reading 20 books or more.

The pre-school story hour program started on Oct. 12 with 72 children registered in the two sessions. As an experiment this fall, one session was held in the afternoon. Both groups ended with a Christmas party.

The art show was very successful. There were more than 40 works by local artists on display.

the ruling overturned by the State Court of Appeals last February.

The court had ruled that Krause's attorney should have had access to testimony before the grand jury prior to the initial trial. At the time of the reversal, Krause's lawyer asked for a new trial. The new trial resulted in the dropping of the charges.

The Appeals Court had overturned the conviction based on a State Supreme Court ruling that testimony before a grand jury should be presented to defense lawyers prior to trial.

The ruling came after Krause's initial trial, but the Supreme Court case was initiated prior to Krause being charged, and therefore applied to his case.

The charges were first brought against Krause in late 1970 when former township clerk, Wilma Wilson, discovered alleged discrepancies in the township's budget.

The accusations caused political furor in the township, resulting in Mrs. Wilson's defeat, Krause's defeat and the defeat of former township supervisor George Angel, in 1970.

The Belleville High School wrestling team opened its Suburban Eight League season with a 38-11 loss to Trenton last Thursday.

Earlier in the week the Tigers gained their first dual meet victory of the season when they topped Taylor Center, 33-20.

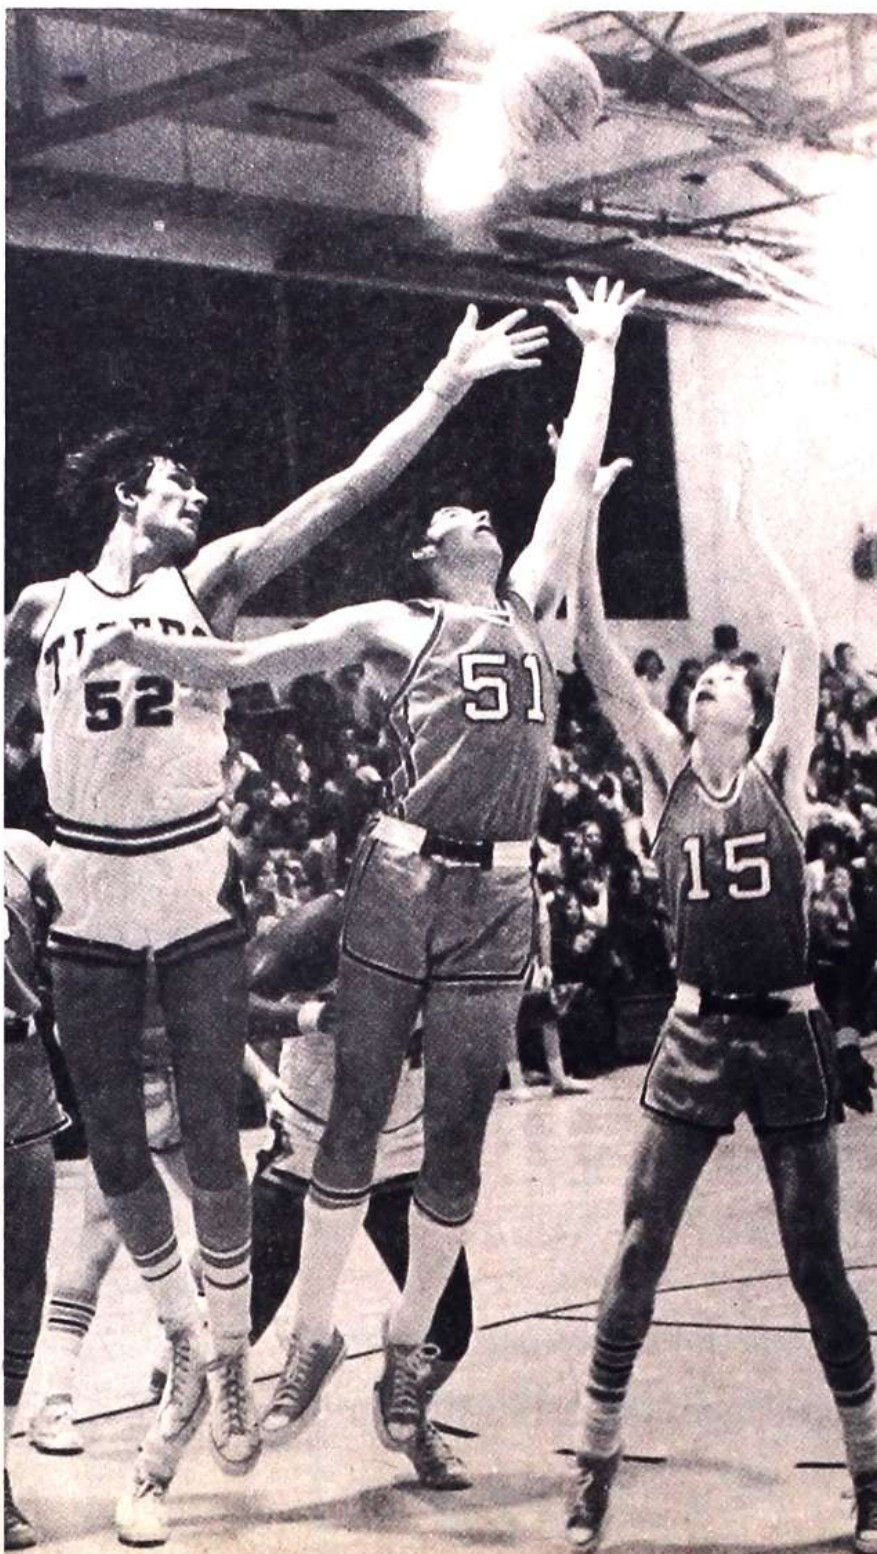

The results left the Tigers with a 1-3 over all mark and an 0-1 league record in dual competition.

Jose Garcia, who wrestles in the 138-pound weight class, won his matches in both meets.

Garcia now has a 16-1 season's record, including tournament competition.

"It was good to get our first win," said Belleville Coach Gerald Malecek. "We're a young team but I think we're learning and coming along."

Malecek added that he expects George Medley, who has been working with the team for just two weeks, to provide the squad with a big lift. Medley has been

3 new Tiger films offered to public

Three new films have been added to the Tigers' lending library and are available now for showing before interested groups where no admission is charged.

The new features include: 1972 World Series - Key plays and feature sidelights of Oakland's thrilling triumph in seven games over Cincinnati.

1972 All-Star Game - Action from the National League's 10-inning, one-run victory over the American League at Atlanta, including the home runs which Hank Aaron calls his "most dramatic."

All-Star Batting Tips - Willie Mays, Stan Musial, Mickey Mantle, Pete Rose and Harmon Killebrew in an interesting discussion with Tony Kubek on how to become a better hitter, including shots of the stars in action.

All three films are 16mm in color with sound. The World Series film runs 40 minutes, the other two 26 minutes.

The Tigers have more than 30 films - some of general interest, some of instructional nature - which fans can borrow without charge.

Instructions for borrowing them and a list of the films available can be obtained by writing: Film Department, Tiger Stadium, Detroit, Mich. 48216.

Films also can be rented from Major League Baseball Film Division, 1650 Broadway, New York, N.Y. 10019. A catalog and price list is available from that organization without cost.

Brings Disney show Mickey Mouse coming to town

The all-new 1973 edition of "Disney on Parade" promises the best family entertainment yet to come to Olympia Stadium. It opens Tuesday, Feb. 6, and runs through Sunday, Feb. 18, according to spokesman Mickey Mouse.

Mickey Mouse, now 44 years old but looking better than ever, has brought an entirely new group of live Disney co-stars to town this year. Special guest, loveable Mary Poppins, heads the list, with her famous friends and songs.

The famous wooden puppet, Pinocchio, will appear in "The Further Adventures of Pinocchio", and a wacky collection of animals and undersea creatures in "Bedknobs and Broomsticks".

The inimitable Donald Duck is reunited with his friends Mickey Mouse, Goofy, Pluto and all their friends in the opening number, "How Dee Do." Other productions will include "Bear Band Jam-boree," a country-hillbilly act with costumed bears and "The Used Car Lot," presenting Donald Duck and Goofy with Herbie the Love Bug and a playful Model T.

This year's music has been arranged by Paul Weston, choreography done by Marc Breaux and Dee Dee Wood, costumes by Bill Campbell, and set direction by Steve Ehlers—combining more than 100 years of showmanship experience to create the newest and best yet "Disney on Parade."

All weeknight performances are scheduled at 7:30 p.m.;

PERFECT NANNY—Mary Poppins, portrayed by Yvonne Green, joins the entire "Disney on Parade" cast to bring the famous story to life with all the famous songs in the all-new and different Fourth Edition of "Disney on Parade," the two and a half hour live stage extravaganza, which opens at Olympia Stadium Tuesday, Feb. 6 and runs through Sunday, Feb. 18.

Saturday, February 10 and 17 at 11 a.m., 3 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.; Sunday, February 11 and 18 at 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. There will be no show on Monday, February 12.

Tickets are priced at $6, $5 and $4 and can be purchased at the Olympia Stadium and all major J.L. Hudson and Sears stores. Children (14- and senior citizens will be admitted for one half off the regular prices for all performances.

Compare campers now!

So you're looking longingly at your fishing reel with snow flakes still in the air and thinking about getting a camping trailer, truck camper or other recreational vehicle!

It's not time for summer fishing but the time is ripe for choosing your RV. An ideal way to begin is visit the sixth annual Detroit Camper and Travel Trailer Show, Feb. 10 through 18, at the Detroit Artillery Armory.

That's the advice of Dan Dowsett, show director, who explains there'll be more than 800 vehicles for you to see and compare—travel trailers, truck campers, camping trailers and motor homes.

Visit all the displays and booths. Talk to representatives of sales firms and manufacturers. Pick up literature and take it home to study.

Then, says Dowsett, go into a huddle with your family and figure out how you and your wife and children want to use your soon-to-be acquired RV.

A lot of hunting and fishing and rugged cross country driving? Maybe a camper mounted on a pickup truck is the answer. Touring and seeing the sights? A travel trailer. A taste for luxury on the road? A motor home. Camping pleasure? A tent camper.

Next analyze your finances. How much do you want to spend for your rec vehicle? If it's $1,500 or under, you're obviously not in the market for a motor home or a 30-foot trailer.

You want to look at camping trailers. Travel trailers will cost more. If you need a dual-purpose vehicle, consider a truck camper which you can slide off your pickup truck when not in use.

Having gone this far, the next step is to talk to the people who own the kind of vehicle you want to buy. There are camping and trailer clubs (you can find their representatives at the show) with members who own all sorts of rec vehicles. They'll be glad to share their experiences and give you sound advice.

Remember... the first thing to do is attend the Detroit Camper and Travel Trailer Show. It opens Saturday, Feb. 10 and runs through Sunday, Feb. 18 at the Detroit Artillery Armory on West Eight Mile Road.

TREK THROUGH FOREST—Cross country skiing is rapidly becoming the "in" sport and Michigan winters provide an abundance of the fluffy white for enthusiasts. Like this family, you can set your own pace for a trek through a scenic forest in upper Michigan.

Cross country booms

Ski-fun not all downhill

There's more to the sport of skiing than a steep schuss down a hill, executing a snowplow turn or stem christie. It's called cross country skiing or ski-touring and it's popularity is "snowballing", according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Cross country skiing is essentially walking on skis. Originally, it was a practical form of transportation used by the Scandinavian people, not only in their own country, but also in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

While downhill skiing requires a certain degree of prowess, cross country skiing is easy to learn and can be enjoyed quickly by even the most cautious beginner. It is excellent, not strenuous exercise and a sport suited to all ages.

It's an ideal family sport offering as much enjoyment for the grandparents as the grandchildren. Hills or mountains are not required so the risk of injury is far less than in downhill skiing. All that is necessary is snow on the ground, enough to cover roots, twigs and underbrush.

One of the most appealing features of ski touring is that it is not expensive. You can outfit yourself with top quality equipment for $100 or less; skis, boots, bindings, and poles.

Clothing is a matter of personal choice. Attractive fashions designed specifically for the sport are available, however, almost any warm outdoor clothing will serve the purpose. And, there are no tow tickets to buy.

Cross country equipment is quite different than that used in downhill. Skis are all wood devoid of metal edges. They are longer and narrower than downhill skis. Bindings anchor only the toe (the heel is free) and they are not release type. Boots are soft and low and poles of lightweight bamboo are generally used. Special wax and proper waxing is most essential.

Cross country skiing has been a popular form of recreation in Michigan's Upper Peninsula since the turn of the century. The Copper Island Cross Country Ski Club at Calumet, conducts weekend races throughout the winter months in the northern Keweenaw.

Michigan's terrain in both the Upper and Lower Peninsulas is ideal for touring and more and more ski areas are developing cross country trails. Among those in the Upper Peninsula are Brule Mountain near Iron River, Al Quall Recreation Area at Ishpeming and Ironquins Mountain Lodge near Sault Ste. Marie.

In northern lower Michigan, there are a number of trails ranging from three to 15 miles in the Traverse City area. Ranch Rudolf, 12 miles southeast of Traverse City, will offer 100 miles of trails. They also will have all the equipment necessary, including clothing, for rent plus package plans for winter holidaying. There also are trails at Gaylord, Grayling, Boyne City, Mackinac City and Cadillac. Bear Mountain at Grayling will have 1,200 acres with marked trails this season and cross country equipment will be available for rent in Grayling. Tyrolean Hills Ski Resort (formerly Pinnacles) east of Gaylord will have 50 miles of marked trails and rental equipment.

Snowshoeing, a relative of ski touring, also is popular in Michigan particularly in the northern areas. It too is inexpensive, good exercise and enjoyable and both can be as challenging as you want to make them.

For those who are exhilarated by crisp frozen days and the snow white wonders of winter, cross country skiing is an exciting and rewarding experience. It's fun in a group and equally fun alone. It's also a good start for downhill skiing.

For more information on cross country ski trails, skiing and snowmobiling in Michigan, write to the Michigan Tourist Council Lansing 48926.

Sumpter to need day care program

Sumpter Township's need for a day care program has been determined, but the community input for the program has been lagging behind.

Mrs. Joanne Slabey, program director of Communities United for Action (CUFA), explained that the need for day care facilities in the township were a high priority item in a survey taken last year. Yet the response of parents has been minimal at two meetings in the past several months.

She explained that it was important for parents to provide inputs to determine whether in-home, group care or another method is needed.

Another meeting has been scheduled for today at 1 p.m., but out of 40 invitation letters sent to parents in the past few weeks only a handful of residents responded.

Mrs. Slabey said she hoped that today's meeting would be beneficial, adding that if 20 people attended it would show that the community is concerned.

Only a small amount of government funds will be released for day care, but an attempt will be made to meet the needs with the minimal money available.

Day care could be made available to mothers who work, or would like to work, and to those with many children who may just need a breathing spell.

Chamber to discuss improvements

The Romulus International Airport Chamber of Commerce will discuss plans for improving the group in three one-hour sessions today.

The meetings, which will discuss the topic "What do you want the chamber to do?" will be held at 10 a.m., 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. in the Community Services Room of the Romulus City Hall, 11111 Wayne Rd., Romulus.

Twenty-five cents will be collected to cover the costs of refreshments to be served during the sessions.

GOSPEL PROGRAM - The Majestic Singers of Rockaway, N.J., will present a program of hymns and gospel songs at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Ball Road Tabernacle, 7007 Ball Rd., Romulus. The group includes Curt Day, manager and bass singer; Elaine Day, alto; Ron Kelly, lead; Diane Ross, tenor; Art Ross, pianist, and Wesley Storms, bass guitar.

Inoculation program is available in area

Romulus residents can take part in the Wayne County Health Department Child Health and Inoculation Clinics from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Monday. Residents are asked to call 728-5045 to make an appointment.

Other services are offered residents at the Wayne County Health Center. Inoculation clinic hours during January will be from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and from 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. daily, and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Wednesday by appointment.

The Social Hygiene Clinic will be open every morning except Thursday from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. The clinic also will be open from 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. Thursday and from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Wednesdays.

Boating safety class is set

The Romulus Department of Parks and Recreation and the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary will be conducting a boating safety class next week.

The class, to be held in the basement of the Romulus City Hall, will be open to all 12 to 16 year olds in the community.

The class will run from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Jan. 29, 30 and 31.

At a session of the Circuit Court for said County held in the City-County Building, 2 Woodward Avenue, in the city of Detroit, on the Dec. 1, 1972.

PRESENT: HONORABLE MICHAEL L. STACEY
Circuit Judge

IN RE: ACQUISITION OF LAND
IN CITY OF ROMULUS, WAYNE COUNTY
MICHIGAN IN AN AREA KNOWN AS THE
WAYNE-BEVERLY URBAN RENEWAL PROJECT
NO. 1 MICH R-187 (L.G.)

No. 223-732
The above matter having come before the Court upon the filing of a petition by the CITY OF ROMULUS, praying for the acquisition of land in the City of Romulus, Wayne County, Michigan for urban renewal, and

Said petition describes the private property necessary to be taken for making said improvement for the use and benefit of the public, and sets forth the purpose of said petition which is the taking of private property, for a just compensation to be made, without the consent of the owners for the said public improvement. The petition prays that the Court make an order fixing a date for hearing on said petition, that said order shall be served and published in accordance with Act 149 of 1911, that said petition further prays that on the day of hearing on the order, in the absence of cause shown, the Court set a further date at which time a jury of freeholders will be impaneled, to determine the questions of necessity and just compensation.

A petition will be supplied to any party who has a legal interest in the property sought to be acquired upon the filing of an appearance by such party or a petition will be supplied to any attorney representing such party upon the filing of an appearance.

ON MOTION OF KENNETH M. DAVIES, P.C., Attorney for Petitioner;

IT IS ORDERED that on Mon. the 29 day of Jan. Camping is a fast growing winter activity Camping once considered only a warm-weather activity -- is now one of the fastest growing segments of the winter tourism scene.

A survey of all Michigan state parks and private campgrounds shows a 35 per cent increase in those staying open this winter as compared with a year ago. The greatest growth has been in the number of private parks keeping gates open year around.

This winter for the first time, private parks operating from December through March outnumber the state parks. There are 92 private parks staying open this winter. This is 37 more than a year ago, or a 65 per cent increase.

State parks staying open to service the winter camper number 65, an increase of five over last winter. Many of the private park operators staying open this winter claim that snowmobilers are a major reason for the increased demand in camping space. One of every three private campground operators responding to an Auto Club questionnaire stated that snowmobilers have access to trails from their parks.

Auto Club points out that the family which likes to snowmobile often owns a recreational vehicle that can be towed in winter to where snow conditions are best.

Camping enables snowmobilers and skiers to reduce the cost of a weekend considerably. Nightly fees vary from a maximum of $2.50 to a minimum $1.50 at state parks and from $2 to $6 nightly at a private park.

These costs are well below the usual $12 to $18 nightly motel charge per couple.

The camping family also can save considerably on meals since most recreational vehicles have kitchen and dinette facilities useable in winter.

Many of the private campgrounds offer monthly storage plans. Two Grayling-area parks -- Pine Knoll and Yogi Berra -- charge $10 monthly to store a trailer on a campsite in winter. The camper only pays the $4 nightly fee if the trailer is occupied.

Of the 92 private campgrounds in operation this winter, 76, or almost 85 per cent, offer winter storage.

Storing a trailer at a campground is economical and leaves the family car free to tow snowmobiles. Car gas mileage is cut in half in towing a medium-to-large-sized trailer, Auto Club points out. The average new car hauling a trailer will get about seven miles per gallon. The added cost of pulling a trailer 400 miles on a weekend is about $10, or the cost of monthly storage at some campgrounds.

Another reason for the growing popularity of private parks in winter is the availability of heated shower and toilet buildings in addition to heated activities buildings.

Currently, only four of the 65 state parks open in winter offer heated shower and toilet facilities. Sixty-nine, or 70 per cent, of the private parks have heated shower and toilet facilities. Twenty-seven private parks, or almost one of three, have heated activities buildings for public use.

Anyone who uses a recreational vehicle during this winter without proper winterization with auxiliary heat may have to seek shelter at the nearest motel, Auto Club points out.

The family that owns an unwinterized camping unit can have it made ready for comfort in sub-zero weather with a $100 expenditure.

Most units without storm windows can have them added. Clear plastic sheeting can be used to cut down window heat loss by taping it to the frame from inside the trailer.

To provide extra warmth, auxiliary heaters -- either electric or catalytic -- can be used. The cost of good auxiliary heating usually is under $50. An inexpensive, portable electric heater can cost no more than $15. Sleeping bags or electric blankets for the lower bunks are usually a good investment for those seeking comfort.

These steps also are suggested by Auto Club for anyone contemplating winter camping to help guarantee a successful outing.

Drain water from all pipes and storage tanks. Place electric heating tape around any pipes which will be used while camping.

Never tow a recreational vehicle with liquid in tanks or pipes. The chill factor at highway speeds in winter guarantees freezing.

Park the trailer with the tongue facing the wind. Use skirts, plastic sheeting, straw or snow between the trailer's bottom and the ground to keep the floor from freezing. Use rugs and mats as added floor insulation inside the trailer.

Provide adequate ventilation with auxiliary heating -- especially catalytic heaters.

Cook outdoors whenever possible to minimize use of heating fuel.

Use throw-away dishes, cups and silverware and easy-to-clean teflon pans to minimize the need for water in the trailer and eliminating unnecessary kitchen work.

Van Buren supports lottery question

The Van Buren Township Board of Trustees has directed the township Clerk Mrs. Pat Cullin to seek the opinion and advice of the Southeastern Michigan Council of Government (SEMCOG) on the question of discontinuing the placing of lottery money in the general fund of the state and replacing it with a revenue sharing program.

The board's action was taken following the receipt of a proclamation issued by the Wayne County Supervisors Association asking the township board for support.

George W. Moore, Huron Township supervisor chairman of the association is seeking the support of surrounding communities in asking the State of Michigan to discontinue the current practice of placing all lottery funds in the state general fund.

The motion to seek the opinion of SEMCOG was made by Trustee Darwin Kureth who was supported by Township Treasurer Ralph Hedman.

The board agreed and passed the motion unanimously.

Holding company has name change

Southeastern Michigan Holding Company of Southgate, the parent company of Security Bank and Trust, has changed its name to Security Bancorp, Inc. The name change was approved by the holding company's shareholders on Jan. 16.

Lowell L. Peacock, president, said the company's name was changed in order to more accurately reflect its primary business as a bank holding company. He said that Security Bancorp, Inc. was the name selected when the holding company was established, but legal technicalities in both the banking and corporate laws prohibited its use. However, legislation that was recently enacted now permits use of the name.

Security Bancorp, Inc.'s primary subsidiary, Security Bank and Trust, is Michigan's 11th largest commercial bank with 23 branches and total deposits in excess of $335 million. The holding company also has a real estate subsidiary named Southeastern Realty Company. The principal objective of this subsidiary is to assist the holding company in financing its present and future real estate investments.

Gas orders halted

JACKSON — Consumers Power Co. says it has stopped accepting new natural gas customers in the small commercial and industrial categories because of prospects of further shortages in the gas supplied to the firm by interstate pipelines.

The Jackson-based firm, which services several Western Wayne County communities, stopped accepting new large-volume customers in September.

It might also be forced to soon turn down new residential customers, a spokesman said.

Included in the small commercial and industrial categories are such customers as drugstores and small groceries.

The firm, in announcing the move Friday, said a decision would be made within two weeks on whether to continue accepting new residential customers in its service area, which also covers Detroit's northern suburbs and much of outstate Michigan.

Consumers said it is getting nearly 200 million cubic feet of gas a day less than called for by its contract with Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co. and fears further cutbacks are possible.

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., which serves Detroit and some suburbs, said it plans no cutbacks in service at this time because — unlike Consumers — its parent company owns a gas pipeline that brings supplies to Michigan and also gets gas supplies from Canada.

Consumers' cutback is in accordance with Michigan Public Service Commission rules.

Consumers has 3,400 commitments to supply gas to small commercial and small industrial customers and 33,000 commitments to supply gas to new residential customers, and all of these will be honored, the firm said, even though some of these are for businesses and homes not yet under construction.

Consumers gets almost all of the gas it sells — an average of one billion cubic feet a day — from Panhandle Eastern and Panhandle's subsidiary. Consumers sells this gas, plus some it gets from wells in Michigan, to individual customers.

By spring or summer, Consumers expects to begin getting 100 million cubic feet of gas a day from its synthetic gas-making plant in Marysville in St. Clair County.

Next January the firm expects to get an additional 100 million feet a day from the Marysville plant.

But Consumers still needs the gas supply from Panhandle, and it says Panhandle does not have enough gas to serve all the utilities in the country with which it has contracts.

So Consumers said it fears Panhandle will continue cutting back deliveries to Michigan.
